Make 1941-42 Activity Fee Allotments

Executive Committee Changes Only Three On Appropriation List

Student activities fee appropriations for 1941-42 were adopted by the executive committee at a meeting on Tuesday, April 29.

Only three changes were made on last year's appropriations. The W.A.A. allotment was cut $.15 because the redecorating debt for which this $.15 was needed has been paid off. The executive committee took a cut of $.05, and the Ariel allotment was increased $.20. The Ariel has been running in debt because of increased costs, and this raise should take care of the problem.

No other changes were made in the appropriation list. Members of the various organizations represented on the list were presented at the meeting.

The appropriations adopted are as follows:

	1940-41	1941-42
Forensics	.60	.60
Lawrentian	2.55	2.55
Mens Athletics	9.00	9.00
W.A.A.	.45	.30
L.W.A.	.25	.25
Ariel	3.55	3.75
Little Theater	2.40	2.40
Executive committee	.65	.60
Contributor	—	.50
Social	4.85	4.85
Homecoming	.10	.10
Pep	.10	.10
	25.00	25.00

Stanley Gunn Gives Recital

Serves As Organist, Choir Master of Presbyterian Church

On Sunday, May 4, at 4:00 p. m., Stanley Gunn, sophomore organ student from the studio of Professor La Vahn Maesch, will present a recital at Lawrence Memorial chapel. His program is as follows:

Canzona	Andrea Gabrieli (1510?-1586)
Chorale Prelude: O Lord, hear my prayer	Johann Krebs (1713-1780)
Credo: We all believe in one God	J. S. Bach (1685-1750)
Piece Heroique	Cesar Franck (1822-1890)
Sonata in A Minor, Wm. H. Harris
Moderato con moto
Adagio espressivo
Maestoso, con brio
Canon in B Minor	Robert Schumann (1810-1856)
Benedictus	Max Reger (1875-1914)
Toccata from Plymouth Suite	Percy Whitlock

Stanley Gunn is the organist and choirmaster of the Presbyterian church. Students are urged to attend the recital.

Prohibit Resale Of Coke Bottles

Hereafter any student redeeming coke bottles downtown will be presumed to have stolen them from the union, it was announced Tuesday by President Thomas Barrows. This means that coke bottles appearing in the dorm will have to come from the union. Iced cokes will be sold six for a quarter, and they will be delivered for a dime, so there is no longer any advantage in buying cokes downtown. This action has been taken to stop the loss of coke bottles. Severe action will be taken against any offenders.

'All American' Rating Goes to Lawrentian

Typography, Sport Section, Headlines Are Highly Commended

An "All American" rating was awarded the 1940-41 Lawrentian in this year's critical service conducted by the Associated Collegiate press of the National Scholastic press association, it was announced Tuesday.

This rating is the highest awarded by the press association. Of the 79 college papers entered in the class of the Lawrentian, only 16 won the "All American" award. A total of 412 newspapers were entered in the critical service.

College newspapers were judged on news values and sources, news writing and editing, headlines, typography and makeup. Headlines, typography and the sports section were especially commended by the judges.

Other colleges in the state which were awarded "All American" rating are the University of Wisconsin, St. Norbert's college, Milwaukee State Teachers' college and Platteville State Teachers' college.

Ten outstanding All-Americans were awarded an additional honor, the pacemaker award. They are Akron Buchtelite, University of Akron, Akron, Ohio; Cauldron, Fenn college, Cleveland, Ohio; Daily Cardinal, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; Daily Texan, University of Texas, Austin, Texas; Emory Wheel, Emory university, Atlanta, Georgia; Michigan Daily, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Michigan State News, State college, East Lansing, Mich.; Minnesota Daily, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.; Red and Black, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia.

New Pan-Hellenic Council Meets

The new Pan-Hellenic council officers took over their duties at the Monday meeting. They are president, Jean Hubbard; vice-president, Dorien Montz; secretary, Winx Fowler; treasurer, Shirley Nelson; Pan-Hell representative, Dorothy Hohenadel. Officers rotate by sororities.

Places were chosen for the afternoon and Friday and Saturday rushing parties next fall. A committee was appointed to draw up penalties for "dirty rushing."

Students Elect 13 to Committee

Thirteen new executive committee members were elected yesterday by the student body. Freshman representatives are Richard Gaeth, Carolyn O'Conner and Arnold VanHengel. Sophomore members are John Disher, Jim Fieweger, Wallace Patten, Ralph Person and Dorien Montz. Juniors are Richard Calkins, Betty Harker, Robert McIntosh, Duane Schumaker and Jack Thomas.

The election was one of the closest in recent years. A total of 440 students voted which is a large spring election. Only four of the new members—Calkins, Fieweger, Harker, McIntosh—have served on the committee before. A tabulation of voting will appear in Tuesday's Lawrentian.

Begin Sale of Announcements

Mortar Board's annual sale of commencement announcements will start Monday in Main hall. Prices will be as follows: fifty cents a piece for leather folders, thirty-five cents, for cardboard folders containing the same information as the leather ones, and fifteen cents for plain cardboard folders.

Treize to Entertain Senior Mace Members

Senior members of Mace will spend the weekend after comprehensives in northern Wisconsin at the cottage of Frederick Treize, associate professor of engineering. Mace members will elect officers and have their banquet on Thursday, May 15.

Excuse Seniors from Comprehensives

Seniors will not have to take comprehensive examinations this year to graduate, it was announced Tuesday by Dean John S. Millis. Only those seniors who desire and who are working for honors will take the exams on Monday, May 12.

Announce Spanish Club Supper Party

The Spanish club supper party will be given May 15. All members who have paid their dues and all Spanish students are invited to attend. For non-members there will be a charge of about 30 cents. Entertainment, as well as food, will be provided.

Conger Speaks For Phi Beta Honors Day

Minnesota Philosophy Professor Tells About Visit With Ghandi

"Gandhi took a vow always to tell the absolute truth, without any concessions to social graces," said G. P. Conger, head of the department of philosophy at the University of Minnesota, at the Phi Beta Kappa honors day convocation on Monday, April 28.

Professor Conger told about Gandhi's beliefs and actions in his talk, entitled "Gandhi at Home" and his contention that in the kingdom of man there is duality, but the law and the lawgiver are one in the kingdom of God. He is extremely well educated, well versed in philosophy and a leader in the Indian religion. He is an outstanding champion of the poor in India, and himself lives a life that is almost completely without belongings or personal comforts. He guides his whole life by the curious doctrine of an inner voice which he believes guides his destiny.

In the evening, Dr. Conger spoke for the Phi Beta Kappa banquet on the subject of a "Memorial to Henri Bergson."

Initiate Members To Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa initiated its four new members Monday, April 28. They are Dorothy Briggs, Martha Carman, Audrey Galpin and Ray Miller. The annual banquet for the new members was held at Brokaw. R. A. Conger, professor of philosophy at the University of Minnesota, spoke on the life work of Henri Bergson, noted French philosopher.

Will Deliver Orders From Hamar Union

Orders from the Hamar union grill will be delivered to the dormitories for $.10 it was announced recently. A student will be available at the union each night up to eleven o'clock for delivering orders. This service has been added so that students will not have to order downtown.

Newman Club Meets

There will be a meeting of the Newman club this Sunday, May 4, in the club room at Hamar union.

Millis Outlines Rules for May Registration

Dean Tells About Room Reservation, Financial Aid Plans

In convocation Wednesday morning Dean John S. Millis explained reservation of rooms for next year, the financial aid program and the new graduation and major requirements.

Appointments for registration are being sent to each student who intends to return next year. The appointments take precedence over all others. A fee of three dollars will be charged for late registration. Courses may be changed before September 1 without the late registration fee by writing to the dean.

Girls in Sage may keep their present rooms if they register for them by 11:30 a. m. next Tuesday and pay a $10 deposit. Junior girls may reserve their rooms Tuesday afternoon. Sophomores in the upper one half of the class according to grades will have first choice Wednesday and those in the lower one half second choice. Freshman will be divided into quarters according to their grade averages and will register on Thursday and Friday, following this division. Men may register for rooms at Brokaw any time.

Financial Aid
Those desiring financial aid next year are to report to Dean Millis' office, ask for blanks, fill them out completely and return them in person. These blanks must be returned to Millis and be discussed with him sometime within the ten days beginning on Monday, May 12. No automatic jobs, loans or scholarships are given at Lawrence. Answers to applications will be sent out between June 20 and July 1.

New courses which have been added this year are as follows: 1-2, Introduction to the Visual Arts; 11-12, Practical Introduction to the Visual Arts; 22, Social Philosophy; 51, American Philosophy; 52, Contemporary Philosophy; 55, Philosophy of the Arts; 56, Philosophy of Science; 61, Development of a Philosophy; 11-12, Introduction to Theatre and Drama; 41-42, Political Thought; 42, Bible as Literature; 1-3, Beginning Latin.

Declaration Merits Careful Consideration

TO MEET the charge that college undergraduates are radical in their political thinking and pacifist in their approach to present day foreign problems, the National Interfraternity conference has just issued a declaration of principles of democracy. The purpose of this declaration is to align fraternity men fairly and squarely behind a constructive national program of defense in the American way of living and, further, to help establish leadership among college men to combat subversive elements.

This declaration follows: The college fraternity of the United States and Canada, which was conceived in the atmosphere of a struggle for political independence, and came into being as an expression of self-government—

Adheres steadfastly to social, religious, political and economic democracy as the only sound basis for a satisfying personal and national life;

Defends the individuals' right to liberty and equality of opportunity;

Inculcates a sense of responsibility to self, to college, to country and to society;

Stresses the spiritual values of life as the foundation of the truly democratic way of living;

Supports our country's championship of the cause of democracy;

Condemns all activities tending to subvert the principles and processes of democratic government;

Pledges unqualified loyalty and devotion to country.

The declaration has some basic concepts in it which merit careful consideration. Now, more than ever before, college students must think carefully about democracy and what it means.

How About a Clean-up of The Quadrangle Grounds?

NOW that the ground is dry, it would be advisable to clean up the center of the quadrangle. The place looks messy, and a few hours work by N.Y.A. students would make it look much more presentable.

Every weekend prospective students are visiting the campus. These high school students are impressed by the quadrangle, but the effect is deadened by the messy grounds.

If the college doesn't want to do anything about the situation before this summer, how about getting the students to do it on a work day?

Evolution of a Collegian Or "Dear Folks, I Need Money"

Freshman

Dearest Mother,
Boy, oh boy, this college life is the real thing! The professors are so nice and the girls are just swell. Of course, I don't pay much attention to them because I don't think Judy would like it. She had a wonderful time here at the Prom and will be waiting for me to come home next week for the one at the high school. It sure will be fun seeing the old gang again. Gee, I haven't been home for two weeks! Some fellows stay up here for months at a time. I don't know how they can stand it; I know I never will be able to. Thanks for the boxes of cookies; they sure beat Brokaw. Well, I have to get back to the books; you can't beat Lawrence for studying. Will write again tomorrow.

Love to all,
Son

Sophomore

Dear Mother,
Sorry I didn't get off a letter earlier this week, meant to, but had lots of things to do. The Prom was last week and was all right. Kinda missed Judy but had a date which pretty much paralleled her at every angle. Too bad she had that cold—did she? Maybe I won't get home for our Prom, too much doing around here. I think the fraternity is going to throw a brawl the same night. Besides I understand Judy has been dating that hick at her dad's office. Work is coming along O.K., but could be better. Sometimes I think I'm right when the profs don't. I could use a few dollars if it's available. I hope to be home in a few weeks if I can make it. Look for a letter next week.

Son
Lots of love,

Junior

Dear Mom,
Why I didn't write since vacation I don't know. Of course, being a junior I am very busy with campus activities. If it wasn't for our class, I don't know how the school would get along. June and I had a wonderful time at the dance Saturday. Incidentally, you made a big hit with her during spring vacation. That reminds me, why in the devil did Judy tie herself up with that fifteen dollar-a-week half-wit when she could do so much better? You can't understand women these days.

The work is piling up like the national debt and I don't know how I can sneak from under. Don't worry, everything will turn out all right. Half of the teachers here are screwy anyway. Sometimes I think they let their kids mark the papers just to entertain them. I wonder why I picked Lawrence anyway?

If it's possible to worm another five out of Dad, I would be more than glad to use it. Until you hear from me again,

Love,
Son,

Senior

Mom:
What a life! Prom, formal, comprehensives, and exams. If there's a diploma on the horizon, I can't see it. Why I ever wanted to go to college I don't know. I could teach some of these courses better than the powers that be. Prom was all right but June and I had another fight. I almost felt like getting that pin back—but everything turned out sweet and nice before the Sage lights flickered. Sorry I couldn't get home for spring vacation—that thesis really took time. I hope I can get it in next week. Read about Judy's wedding. She sure got a man—understand he's going to night school so he can write his own name.

I need ten bucks bad so please rush. Dad says what the gov't doesn't get the Union does. Well, here it's what the college doesn't get the Thetas do. See you graduation—I hope.

L. Son

Lawrentians to Hold Radio Forum

Though the date is indefinite, sometime in the near future Don Johnson, Joe Vivian, Jane Mockley and June Brom will discuss over the radio the subject "What are the threats to democracy in the country?" Three other discussions will be held a week apart. The subjects will be "What should we do about labor disputes in defense industries?", "Are Americans becoming soft?" and "How can we control subversive actions in the United States?"

These radio discussions will be presented during May.

California Group Shows Photographs

Famous Artists Exhibit 25 Pictures In College Library

Twenty-five photographs by famous American photographers known as the "California Group" went on exhibit May 1 in the Lawrence college library. Featured in the exhibit are works by Edward Weston, Ansel Adams, Brett Weston, Cedric Wright, Dorothea Lange and Imogen Cunningham.

There is great variety of subject in the exhibit with such titles as Stump Against The Sky, Iceberg Lake, Sierra Nevada, Breadline, Barn, Summer Show, Calla Lilly, Pepper, Muir Pass, Sunset and San Dunes. The exhibit will remain at the college until May 15.

In California, Edward Weston has developed a style of photography which is characterized by exact precision of focus and tonal scale. In 1932 his followers formed the "F 64 Group." The name was chosen because it refers to the camera setting which allows great clarity of image and depth of focus—factors which have been conspicuous in their prints. The six photographers whose work is included in the exhibit are outstanding members of this group.

They exploit the camera's ability to render seemingly infinite detail and believe with Edward Weston that "the camera is capable of enlarging human vision by revealing the world in new terms and new dimensions." To realize this ideal they generally employ large negatives and make contact prints or enlargements of only small magnification on a smooth paper which reveals to the fullest the structure recorded by the lens.

Camera Club Goes To Station WHBY

The Camera club met Tuesday, April 29, at Ben Seaborne's house. Colored movies of Mexico and of the sleet storm in Appleton last winter were shown. After this the Camera club visited station WHBY. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 12, in the art laboratory.

CAMPUS LAMBAKE

By BILL SQUID

IF the year 1941 is known for nothing else at Lawrence college, let it be recorded in large brilliant letters that it was the year when the rule requiring a major was discarded. That event, I think, is one of the most significant reforms that has ever taken place in this college. For that matter, it is one of the most significant reforms that can take place in any college. Under this "emancipation act," education is freed and becomes truly liberal.

I am not exactly sure upon whose excellent shoulders the credit for this act is to be placed. I rather like to feel that it was the faculty in general who worked for its adoption. But whoever it is, whether it be the administration, the faculty or the committee on administration, a wonderful thing has been done. Moreover, the "reformers" have shown exactly where their interests lie: not in narrow, specialized channels but rather in the full, liberal education. That attitude, alone, is highly desirable in leaders of youth.

But the implications of this event reach even farther. The faculty has shown itself to be "on the ball." It has demonstrated a highly admirable spirit of progressiveness; it has shown itself to be willing to experiment, try new ideas and change, if necessary, the system by which it educates, directing all towards the enrichment of the educational experience of each student. Indeed, the faculty has realized in part its magnificent ideal of liberality. It has initiated a process which can, and I hope will, make Lawrence college one of the most progressive in the United States.

Naturally, their job has just begun. The elimination of the major requirement with its consequent liberalizing and broadening of the individual student's field of study is a gratifying step in the right direction, but this will hardly solve all the problems of college education. There will still be, for example, the educational "reign of terror," which accompanies the universally misplaced emphasis upon grades, a bad habit which has blighted college learning for a great many years. Whether the student or the system is at fault, is difficult to say, but, nevertheless, I believe that every thoughtful student has in mind the time when he no longer will work with the eternal gnawing fear of failure or bad grades. "Education by fear" might be the next problem for our faculty to tackle.

Here we have been talking about the faculty all this time, commending it, of course, but also implying that it was the only body who could influence the progress and smooth functioning of college education. This, obviously, is not true, for the student in his actions and to an even greater extent in his attitudes determines almost completely the general tenor of a college. The faculty makes the student, and the student makes the college. Today the faculty has set an inspiring example for the students: has made a sincere attempt to bring about a system which will foster to a greater degree than ever before the scholastic virtues of broad learning, intelligence, liberalism and wisdom. Whether these virtues will increase, depends completely on the students. The faculty has done its part well, now let us do ours.

Gridders Play Final Game of Spring Season

Squad Shows Promise In Frosh-Varsity Intra-Squad Battle

On Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. the final scrimmage of the spring football season will be held. Coach Bernie Heselton has planned to give all his men who have been working out since spring vacation a chance to show their potential stuff. Weather permitting, a good, lively game is expected with the first three quarters to be taken over by a battle between the freshmen and the varsity. The last scrimmage between the two aforementioned squads ended in a scoreless tie on Tuesday afternoon. However, after the game was declared finished by Heselton, the varsity managed to score a touchdown on a pass from Rhodes to Lingle. Joe Greco played a stellar, stand-out game for the freshmen and, all in all, Bernie was well pleased with his charges. He was so pleased, in fact, that he said, "It was the most vicious, hardest-played game that I have seen since I've been coaching here."

Last Period

The last period of Saturday's regulation game will be played between a first and second team picked by Heselton. In other words, the boys will be placed on either a first or second squad, based on spring play and aggressiveness. By doing this, Coach Heselton will attempt to get a line on next year's team, with special attention given to team play and coordination.

Also, a chance will be given for all men to get a chance to play and prove their ability under pressure.

A large crowd is expected to watch the battle, and with this game ending the spring practice it is hoped that the coaches will be able to really find a winning combination to surprise the conference teams next fall.

Coaches Heselton and Dillon will select a varsity and frosh team from the following list:

Varsity

Ends—*Stuart, Grady and *Lingle.

Tackles—*Powell, *Plummer. Guards—*Florin, Boge, and *Spalding.

Centers—*McIntosh, Haack. Backs—Galloway, Cramer, Meyers, Pope, *Rhodes.

*Denotes lettermen.

Frosh

Ends—Maertzweiler, Hedge, Wakefield, Zentner.

Tackles—Miller, Postl, Vosper, Sensesbrenner, Greenspoon.

Guards—Saying, Hamlin, Willmert, Minton, Benn.

Centers—Greco, Francis.

Backs—Zupek, Lucht, Nolan, Eckrich, Hanna.

SUPREMACY CUP

Viking Golf Squad Meet Ripon Redme

The Viking varsity golf squad, after decisively conquering Carroll last Saturday afternoon, will have Ripon as its next opponent. The match is scheduled to be played at Ripon on Tuesday, providing the links there are in a playable condition. If not, the match will be played at Appleton. Coach Bernie Heselton's boys have been practicing all week at the River-view course and are prepared to go in for victory number two.

the Phi Taus, Sig Eps and Betas, the games should be closely played all the way.

Schedule:

Wednesday, May 7, 3:30 p. m.—Phi Taus vs. Betas; Deltas vs. Sig Eps.

Sports Calendar

May 3 — Inter-squad football game.
May 3—Tennis meet, St. Norberts here.
May 7 — Interfraternity baseball begins.
May 16—All-college golf meet.

Varsity Netmen Play St. Norbert Knights

The varsity tennis team will play the St. Norbert's netmen tomorrow here. This afternoon the freshmen squad will have a game with the team from the Institute of Paper Chemistry. Both teams seem to have potentialities, and everything looks forward to a successful year.

Vike Track Men Enter Beloit Relays Today

Eight Men to Compete In Individual Events; Relay Teams to Run

The fifth annual Beloit relays will be held on the Beloit college track coach at 7 p. m. Coach Art Denney is entering eight men in individual events and will run a mile relay team. Two freshmen relay teams will also run, although their points will not be counted toward team scores.

Last year's team won only 93 points, 9 of them being the result of Vince Jones shot put and discus efforts. Vince broke the shot put record last year by two feet with a toss of 47'9", and he'll be out to shove it up a few more inches at least. Vince will also heave the discus, as will Larry Henkes and Frank Nencki.

Jim Fieweger should take some points in the high jump if he can get back up to 6 ft. or better, and he may place in the shot put. Captain Jim Orwig will compete in the high jump, pole vault and the broad jump. He took ½ of a point in a third place tie last year in the pole vault. Keith Nelson will also be vaulting, and Frank Hammer will broad jump.

Prize

Ralph Colvin will run in the Beloit Daily News mile run and should place among the first five. The prize for this event is a beautiful wrist watch.

The Vikes high hurdle shuttle relay team should go places with Fieweger, Oliver and Orwig carrying the mail. There's an outside chance that these three men can break the record, but they will encounter strong competition, especially from Carleton, Coe and De Pauw university.

Ade Dillon will probably run. Lee Cooper, Chuck Rollins, Jim Dite and Harry Haslanger in the freshman sprint medley relay and Rollins, Lee and Bob Cooper and Bill Harkins in the distance medley will run. Last year's frosh relay teams finished sprint medley fifth and distance medley fourth.

Coach Denney will also enter a mile relay team made up of Holway, Fisk, Oliver and Person. More relay teams will not be entered because of lack of running strength. Lawrence may not place near the leaders because double points, 10-8-6-4-2 are awarded for relays and

Spring Sunshine Brings Tans For Weekend of Greek Formals

Oh, if this weather would only last the season out! Things certainly are on the sunny side for us of dear old Lawrence these days! Just think, next year we won't have to major in anything but spring—unless you care to, of course, and, as they can't give comprehensives on that, why there just won't be any comprehensives! Oh, joy.

The roofs are shingled with sunning beauties, and those pre-season tans are really going to look good at the ensuing formals... if the sun or the roofs and porches hold out, and if we all had convertibles and the quad had grass, there'd be nothing left to ask for. But your reporter sends her congratulations to two girls who got what they asked for, and I bet they're mighty happy. Yes, Wilma Landahl and Katherine Gollberg were initiated into Kappa Delta last Wednesday evening.

Picnic

Definitely along the spring season fun will be the Theta-D. G. picnic, which the Thetas are having Monday, so let's keep our fingers crossed that there won't be any lake flies or spiders! Wednesday the Thetas are planning a faculty tea to be held at the Banta's. And now come the formals, all four of them for this weekend. Yes sir, when someone asks you, "What's that swirling around—the floor?", you'll know that it's either the Alpha Chis at Butte des Morts, the A.D. Pis at North Shore, the Pi Phis at Riverview or the Phi Taus at the Valley Inn. Ah yes, it will be a gala weekend!

But there's going to be more than the smell of spring and garland in the air over the weekend... Yes sir, you guessed right; those delicious steak fries are with us again, and both the Deltas and the Sig Eps will be bending over their respective fires this Sunday evening. And so, that's all for now, but here's hoping you all have a real smooth time!

At the Conservatory

The first of the series of organ recitals held last Sunday, April 27, at Lawrence Memorial chapel was attended by an appreciative audience which gave the soloist, Cecil Neubecker, candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Music with a major in organ, a warm reception. Cecil Neubecker played with a sense of familiarity, easily evident as he played each number throughout his program.

The women's quartet which was featured at the end of the Karg-Elert group was a thing startling to hear, and sounded rather confusing in the reverberating hall.

Neubecker is a student of LaVahn Maesch, professor of organ and music history.

The program was as follows:
Allegro Vivace (from (Symphony No. 5 for Organ)
Charles M. Widor
Trio Sonata in D Minor No. 3
J. S. Bach

Andante
Adagio e dolce

Edwin Arthur Kraft

Fanfare
Leo Sowerby
*Assisting: Ruth Rouley, Dorothy Flitcroft Shirlee Emmons, Muriel Engelland, vocalists; Ruth Mewaldt, violinist.

The studio of Dean C. Waterman presented Betty Burger, soprano, in her junior song recital on Tuesday, April 29, at 8:00 p. m. in Peabody hall.

A difficult program confronted the singer, who showed a flare for interpreting her part well from a dramatist's point of view. However, there were spots where her enthusiasm for acting her roles could have been somewhat subdued. It was especially evident in the song cycle of Winter Watts' "Vignettes of Italy" that the difficult program exceeded the limitations of the singer's vocal technique. There was evident weakness in pitch control of skips taken downward and in a display for breath control. However, the soloist should be commended for attempting a program difficult enough for a more finished singer. Especially pleasing was her concluding number, which brought forth a round of applause from the audience.

Farley Hulchins accompanied the soloist with results that were gratifying to the listener. His efforts were the best thus far along accompanying lines.

Change in Graduation Rule Is Hard on Confused Students

I see by the paper (everything I know I read in the Lawrentian) that the requirements for graduation have been changed. Right now, the only prospective letters to follow my name are B. S., but they mean something more on the order of Better Scram than Bachelor of Science.

This business of abolishing the necessity of having a major is all right. Now instead of definitely knowing which subject you don't know anything about, you know that you don't know nuthin' about none of them nohow.

I see here, too, that a year of a social science has been added as a requirement. Hmhmhm. It isn't bad enough that we get sent to college to get an education, now we have to know why we get sent here. Maybe it is just as well for one might never know.

And that philosophy. So help me, if there is one stop sign trap in Plato's Republic, I'm hopping the next blizzard for Alaska. I got Bingo on one of those things once before. Besides that, I've always got along pretty well on a notably obscure philosophy, an example of which is "Crime does not pay—he finished out of the money in the third race." I have always wondered why it remained so obscure.

Now I don't want anyone to get me wrong. I'm not griping about these changes. It's just that now I'll have to graduate, and I like it here.

Show Facsimilies Of Drawings from French Collection

An exhibit of facsimilies of French drawings from the beginning of the French Renaissance to the present will be hung on May 4 in Dr. Baker's room on second floor of Main hall. This display was secured by the art department from the American Federation of Arts, as one of the privileges of Lawrence's membership in the circulation.

The facsimilies compose another in a series of educational exhibits presenting the relationships of art and cultural life of any given period. Two previous displays of this educational type were the "Canterbury Tales in Chaucer's England" and the "French Chateau of the Renaissance."

This French exhibit contains drawings from some of the great masters in draughtsmanship in all history. Some of the best work in the display is by Watteau, Ingres and Renoir. It should be of particular interest in the French classes because of the intimate association between the life of the times and the sensitive expression of current ideas by the artists, which offers an opportunity to study French life.
